

Shantung Wealth Being Destroyed By Chinese Army

Shanghai, Dec. 31.—(Friday)—(AP)—Wholesale destruction of Japan's rich stake in Shantung province continued today as Chinese worked with torch and dynamite to wreck mills and other properties before Japanese armies could reach Tsingtao.

From that Shantung port an exodus of Americans and other foreigners was in progress. Fearing disorders and possible spread of destruction to non-Japanese property, a foreign vigilante corps was organized in Tsingtao.

FRENCH STRIKE WAVE SPREADS TO MINE AREA

One Thousand Quit At Anzin; Paris Unions
Restless

By the Associated Press
Paris, Dec. 30.—(P)—The wave of strikes threatening the stability of the people's front government today spread to the rich coal mining region of Northern France.

One thousand miners at Anzin, near Valenciennes, walked out in protest against discharge of three workers. Officials expressed fear all 16,000 miners of the Anzin company would join in a sympathy strike.

Political circles wondered whether the government would meet this threat to one of the nation's chief industries with the tactics it employed last night to end a walk-out of 120,000 Paris municipal employees, a threat to call strikers to army service and put them back at their own jobs under military discipline.

Although that threat sent the capital's public service workers—most of whom are army reservists—back to their desks this morning, unions of others indirectly threatened to resume strike unless their full demands eventually were met.

Settlement of the public service unions was believed to be a prelude to the newspaper truckmen's strike.

Drivers who occupied garages while army trucks were used to distribute newspapers to wholesale newsdealers agreed to return to work in the morning. Terms of the settlement were not disclosed.

Predicts Loyalist Victory for Spain

Chicago, Dec. 30.—(P)—Fernando de Los Rios, Spanish ambassador to the United States, predicted today the war in Spain would end in a Loyalist victory "before the end of next summer."

Here to address the convention of the Modern Language Association of America, the Spanish ambassador said he believed another World War was impending "because aggressive countries are becoming more and more aggressive."

"Moral considerations have been cast aside," he said. "The only consideration now is power."

Speaking of the situation in Spain, the ambassador de Los Rios said: "The Loyalist government's army is now stronger than ever. I am convinced the war will end before the end of next summer—certainly within the year."

REBELS DEFEAT LOYAL ARMY IN TERUEL SECTOR

Government Admits
Losing Positions
West Of City

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Dec. 3.—(P)—Insurgent dispatches tonight said their troops, supported by a heavy artillery and aerial bombardment, had smashed through government lines northwest of Teruel and captured a number of positions.

The insurgent general offensive, described as "the most extensive operation" of the 17-month-old war, insurgent reports from Salamanca said, occupied the village of Camillo and had closed in on Conced. Adjacent government positions also were taken.

The communique asserted that retreating government troops had left more than 1,000 dead.

Government advices from Barcelona admitted, "we have lost several positions" in the western sector.

Insurgents at Salamanca asserted that government forces had lost more than 6,000 men since General Miguel Aranda began his drive to relieve insurgent troops besieged in three improvised citadels within Teruel.

It was reported from Teruel that two of the insurgent strongholds, the Seminary and the Bank of Spain, had been blown up by government mining crews. Hundreds of persons were believed buried under the heavy debris.

Arrest Voller for Mae West Robbery

Miami Beach, Fla., Dec. 30.—(P)—Harry O. Voller, 46, owner of the Palm Court hotel, was arrested tonight on a fugitive warrant charging him with robbing Mae West of $15,000 in cash and jewels in Hollywood on Sept. 28, 1932.

The arrest was made by Detective Chief Earl D. Carpenter and W. C. Wickham, assistant police chief, on instructions from District Attorney Byron Pitts of Los Angeles county, California. Voller was held without bond pending a hearing tomorrow.

It was Voller's third arrest on the charge, the officers said. He was first arrested in Chicago in 1933. He was extradited to California because California authorities would not reduce the $20,000 bond set for his release.

He was arrested in Miami Feb. 21, 1934, but Governor Dave Sholtz declined to allow his return to California pending disposition of the Illinois case.

Accuses Roosevelt Regime of Monopoly

New York, Dec. 3.—(P)—Lewis W. Douglas, new principal of McGill University, Montreal, and director of the budget during the first Roosevelt administration, today accused the Roosevelt regime of fostering monopoly in the fields of agriculture, money and labor while discouraging it in industry.

Douglas, addressing members of the Columbia University Alumni Club, said he was "very frankly" distressed at the "depth of feeling" which prevails throughout the country.

"And I am distressed at the bitterness with which public officials speak about private industry and the bitterness with which private individuals speak of public officials," he said.

"I do not understand why it is that the covenant made with the people in 1933 has been so almost completely broken. x x x"

FOUR HURT IN BLAST AT SPRINGFIELD PLANT

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 30.—(P)—Four men were hurt today in an explosion at the Baker Manufacturing Company's plant.

William Carey, 27, of Springfield, and Joseph Milke, 43, of Pawnee, were taken to a hospital seriously injured. Two other men were less seriously hurt.

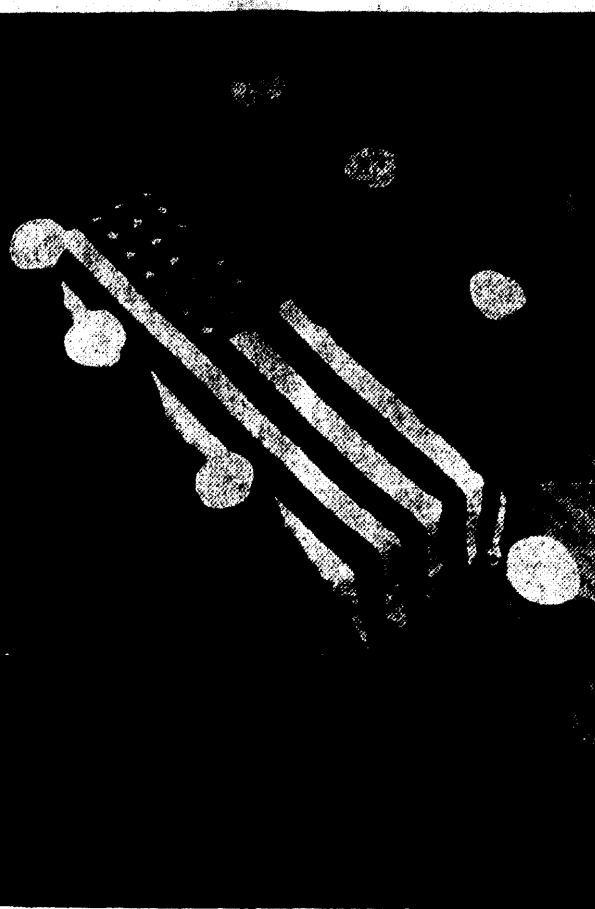

Firemen blamed the blast on faulty heating equipment and estimated the damage at $10,000.

PAIR SENTENCED FOR KIDNAPING, CAB THEFT

Madison, Wis., Dec. 30.—(P)—Osma Kangaas, 24 and Nelson Peterson, 23, both of St. Paul, pleaded guilty in federal court today to the kidnaping of a taxi driver and theft of his cab and were sentenced by Judge Patrick T. Stone to five years' imprisonment and fined $5,000 each.

The pair admitted they got into the cab of Thomas Mayhew at St. Paul August 2, abducted him and threw him out at Hurley, Wis. They were captured near Hurley.

YACHT OWNER'S DEATH MYSTERY IS CLEARED UP

Slain Skipper And His Murderer Not Among
Six Survivors

Los Angeles, Dec. 30.—(P)—John Hanson, agent in charge of the local Federal Bureau of Investigation, said in a statement tonight Dwight Faulding, 49, Santa Barbara hotel owner, was killed by Jack Morgan aboard Faulding's yacht Aafje near here today.

Hanson's statement, which he said was issued at the direction of J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau, said that Morgan became involved in a dispute aboard the vessel, as a result of which he was lost at sea.

"Late that evening," Hanson's statement said, "after the boat was several hours out of San Pedro, Morgan became involved in an altercation with Mr. Faulding, during which time Morgan killed Faulding with a pistol."

"Morgan then assumed command of the Aafje and late that night off San Clemente Island, Faulding was buried at sea. Morgan continued in command of the boat and at a point about 500 miles from San Pedro, Morgan became involved in an encounter, as a result of which he was lost at sea."

The Aafje, with six survivors aboard, was towed into Los Angeles harbor tonight by the coast guard cutter Perseus. The disabled yacht was found by government patrol planes yesterday about 190 miles at sea. The passengers, three women, two men and a boy had been without food or water for three days.

U. S. Silver Policy
To Continue in '38

Washington, Dec. 30.—(P)—The United States will continue to buy foreign silver and support the world price during at least part of the next year, Secretary Morgenthau announced today.

He disclosed that the July 9, 1937, understanding for the purchase of Chinese silver has been extended until July 1, 1938, and that, in accordance with the custom of conducting month to month dealings with Canada and Mexico, the United States had made a commitment to buy silver from these countries in January.

The developments left only next year's price for domestic silver to be cleared up. President Roosevelt is expected to announce tomorrow whether the present price for newly-mined domestic metal will be continued at 77.57 cents an ounce or reduced.

New York, Dec. 30.—(P)—Newspaper film critics of New York City today selected "The Life of Emile Zola" as the most distinguished motion picture of 1937.

Their other selections included: Paul Muni in "The Life of Emile Zola" and Grete Garbo in "Camille" as the actor and actress who gave the outstanding performances of the year; Gregory La Cava, who directed "Stage Door," as the outstanding director; and "Mayerling" as the year's most outstanding foreign language film.

Secretary Ickes Continues Attacks On "Big Business;" Says Fight Is To A Finish

Leaders Praise, Criticize
Ickes' Address On Radio

Wheeler Says if Either Big Business or Politicians Wins, The People Lose

Washington, Dec. 30.—(P)—Secretary Ickes' denunciation of big business drew both praise and criticism from congressional leaders tonight.

Senator Norris, Nebraska Independent, commented that "Ickes' radio speech was great, because it told the truth."

"A combination of special interests and a very great majority of the daily press are united in an attempt to frighten the people," Norris said.

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) a leader of the successful fight against the president's Supreme Court bill, said the current struggle "seems to be one between certain politicians on the one hand and the corporations on the other."

"If either wins the people will lose," he declared.

Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind.) said, "I am very sorry to see additional barriers raised between the government and private industry."

"I had hoped we were approaching a more sympathetic understanding upon the part of both," he added. "If the big business mentioned in Secretary Ickes' speech is violating the law, the Congress has provided ample machinery for investigation and punishment."

Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) said he doubted that "any good purpose will be served by this speech."

"What's this all about?" asked Senator Adams (D-Colo.) "As I interpret Ickes' speech, he said that the '60 families' are trying to gain control of the government, and I can't see where they have made any progress along that line."

"The administration has passed all of the laws it wanted to pass. What more are needed now?"

Columbia Professor
Asserts Wages Here
Already "Too High"

Former Head of Roosevelt
Labor Board Says Unions
Outbidding Each Other

Atlantic City, N. J., Dec. 30.—(P)—Dr. Leo Wolman, professor of economics at Columbia University and one-time head of President Roosevelt's automobile labor board, told the American Economic Association today wages were already too high in this country, and might be forced higher through competition between unions.

The economist predicted the CIO and AFL would continue to "outbid each other" by offering prospective members higher standards of wages and hours, and probably force scales higher if there was a let-up in the present business recession.

He said it was "notorious" that the cost of labor and building materials had reached a point where people could not afford to build much-needed houses.

"The national administration, and with its public opinion, has never faced the utter fallacy of trying to boost income, output and employment by rising costs," he asserted.

"In our basic industries there is danger that continued increases in wage rates may place our cost structure in a disequilibrium position with respect to the outside world."

"SMOG" HALTS PLANE
TRAFFIC AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Dec. 30.—(P)—A heavy smog halted air transportation at this hub of the aviation network today.

The murky atmosphere—fog and smoke over cities and dark clouds and mists elsewhere—was general throughout the Midwest.

The half light of dusk pervaded Chicago. Lights burned through the day in Loop buildings.

Meteorologists said there was no indication as to how long the gloom would persist.

The outlook for Saturday was unsettled with continued moderate temperatures.

SIXTY FAMILIES TERMED 'FOES' OF DEMOCRACY

Speech Called Prelude
To Roosevelt Message
To Congress

Washington, Dec. 30.—(P)—Secretary Ickes, continuing the administration's attack upon "big business," asserted tonight that the power of concentrated wealth "must be compelled to conform to our laws" at the coming session of Congress.

An "irreconcilable conflict" between "the power of money and the power of the Democratic instinct" has reached such an intensity in recent months," he said, that it is "clear that it must be fought through to a finish—until plutocracy, or democracy—until America's 60 families, or America's 120 million people—win."

He spoke by radio, over a nationwide hookup. His speech was the third assault upon "big business" to come from within the inner administration circle within a week.

Two such addresses were delivered previously by Robert H. Jackson, assistant attorney general. All are regarded as a prelude to President Roosevelt's message to Congress and a drive for anti-monopoly legislation.

Like Jackson, Ickes accused concentrated economic power of going on a strike against the administration, or threatening to do so, unless governmental restraints upon business are removed.

Referring throughout to capital as "America's 60 families," a phrase borrowed from a book by Ferdinand Lundberg, he said:

"To the 120 million people of the United States, they have made the threat that unless they are free to speculate, free of regulations to protect the people's money; unless they are free to accumulate through legal tricks, by means of corporations, without paying their share of taxes; unless they are free to dominate the rest of us without restrictions on their financial or economic power; unless they are once more free to do all these things, then the United States is to have its first general sit-down strike—not of labor—not of the American people—but of the 60 families and of the capital created by the whole American people, of which the 60 families have obtained control."

"If the American people call this bluff, then the America that is to be will be a democratic America, a free America. If the American people yield to this bluff, then the America that is to be will be a big-business fascist America—an enslaved America."

"In addition, he called attention to a recent labor board decision against Henry Ford. He said the board charges Henry Ford, the beneficent, with what amounts to a refusal to comply with duly enacted statute; he called upon business to purge itself of its Ford, its Girdlers and its Rands," before "it presumes to tell the people what they should, or should not, do about troubles caused by labor laws."

Asserting that the "Sixty Families" brought on the depression which began in 1930, he said the people called upon the government to intervene and the latter was successful in restoring prosperity.

"And last spring," he continued, "government had the business of the country turning over so well that it thought it could safely heed the pleas of private enterprise to government to abandon the economic initiative."

"Pursuant to these pleas, government cut down public expenditures to keep up purchasing power in order to meet the insistence of private enterprise that business confidence would be greater if government would take steps to balance the budget—assured the fears of the head of the biggest bank in the United States about runaway inflation—and turned over the responsibility they had said that they were eager and willing to assume."

"And what happened?"

"Two things. First, the sixty families that were master-minding private enterprise proved to have learned nothing nor forgotten nothing since 1929 about the management of business under modern conditions. They made the same mistakes they had made before 1929."

"Second, the sixty families, unwilling to learn to do business upon the democratic terms of 1937, began to make demands and threats. x x x"

"To the 120 million people of the United States they have made the threat that the professional operators of the American economic system, and the professional managers

Around The Corner

Today at 12 o'clock we'll turn another corner on the road of life. We'll step into the year 1938 which, like all other years, will bring some of the things that have been predicted along with surprises.

No person has ever been able to see around the corner successfully. No periscope has ever been invented that can be pointed around a corner of the year, and give a true picture of what is ahead. Some of our national and international prophets indulge in guessing what the future holds, but like all seers, they sometimes miss it badly.

The first of a new year is always a time for inventory, adjustments, resolutions and new alignments. People are inclined to view the approach of a new year with a kind of vague feeling; the year ahead holds mystery, uncertainty. But the people should not be afraid, merely curious.

We have been turning corners and watching the numbers on the calendar roll up like the speedometer on a moving automobile. We have always made the turn, though sometimes we may have been bumped and shaken up on the straight away into the next year. The road is paved in spots and rough in spots, and there are no detours. We head directly from one year into the next without any extra mileage.

Some individuals drive the road of life recklessly and crack up. Some nations try to pass up others on the wrong side, and get into trouble. Often there are head-on collisions between nations when the traffic rules are disregarded. But no one can foretell these occurrences by trying to penetrate the misty atmosphere of the future.

All we can do is to keep ourselves under control and stay on our side of the road. Then we have a better chance of avoiding trouble on the sharp curves as we round out one year and enter the next.

The year that will arrive at midnight may bring a solution of our personal and national problems. Or it may be a good deal like the year that is fading away, in which we have experimented and tried to hit upon courses and policies which would improve conditions. Who has the psychic power to stand up and tell us we are heading into a section of road we can't pull through? How could they prove it?

We have turned every corner on the road since our journey began. We have kept moving, fast and slow, depending on the condition of the road, the grades and the slopes. The swing we make tonight from one year to another is nothing new—just a routine jog like we've made many times before.

So pull down your hat, get a good grip on the wheel and hold tight! Tonight at 12 we'll twist 'er around the corner. Tomorrow we'll be rolling along on Route 1938, looking for a stretch of smooth pavement, where filling stations are located just the right distance apart, and punctures are unknown.

A Christmas Backwash

New Year's celebrations, as far as we've been able to see, are pretty much a backwash from the Christmas tide of festivities. No one becomes as enthused over New Year's as a holiday as Christmas. The first of the year has always played second fiddle to the symphony of good cheer that fills the air at Christmas time. New Year's is the last outpost of the holiday season.

Some people will exchange cards of greeting to start the New Year. But the number of New Year's cards is only a small percent of the Christmas greetings that were exchanged, and already the zest of looking at greeting cards is wearing off.

New Year's dinners will be served in numerous homes tomorrow, but without the enthusiasm that attended the Yuletide feast. For everyone by now knows that New Year's is a signal for return to the old grind—back to the routine that existed before the holidays came along.

Next week the students will return from vacations. Next week all of the holiday decorations will have disappeared. The new will be worn off of children's Christmas toys; neckties, socks and coats that a week ago were Christmas presents will be merely a part of the wardrobe.

Perhaps we have pictured New Year's as too drab a holiday—we did not intend to. What we meant to convey is that New Year's day is a stern reminder that the holidays are at an end, and who doesn't hate to see the Christmas season go?

Moving A Town

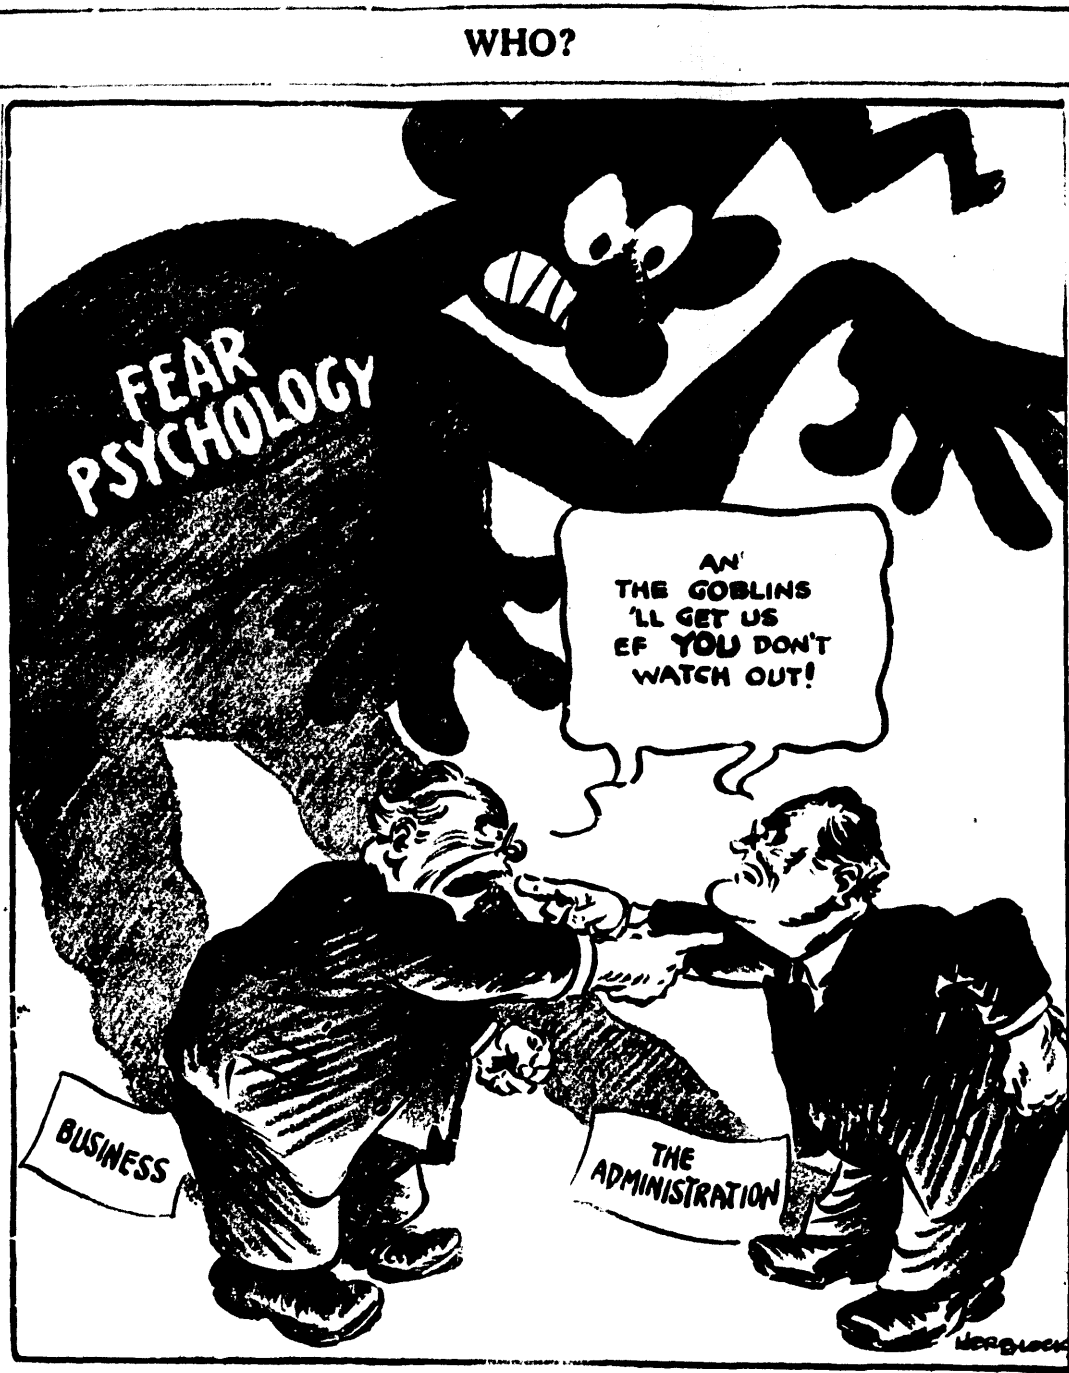

A spectacle without precedent in Illinois is about to be witnessed at the southern end of the state near the junction of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. Shawneetown, one of the chief victims of the January floods of this year, is to be removed and rebuilt on higher ground, where the raging flood waters may never again lap at the doorsteps of homes or business houses.

The State of Illinois is supervising the project and the federal government through WPA has voted hundreds of thousands of dollars. Employment will be provided for practically every employable person in the Shawneetown district during the nearly two years it will require to build the new town and abandon the old.

Strong as may be the inclination of some of the residents of the present town to resist being moved to the new, there will be no exceptions. For the entire site of the present town is to be condemned and converted to state park purposes. If floods again flow over the area, there will be no refugees to get out or property to defend.

New houses in the new Shawneetown will cost an average of $1,900, and owners will have to do their own planning how they can pay for them by small installments over a period of years.

The project includes the building of a new court house and two schools, construction of five miles of paved

Farmers in Jersey Oppose RR Change

Sign Petition with 350 Names to Prevent Mail Route Move

Jerseyville—Patrons of Jerseyville Rural Route Number Four are facing a discontinuance of that route and its consolidation with other routes out of Jerseyville and other postoffice points in the county if orders of the postoffice department at Washington are carried out.

Previous efforts to change the plan of the department have been unavailing, and Wednesday morning a petition containing the names of more than three hundred and fifty farmers of Jersey county was forwarded to Postmaster General James Farley by Representative Howard Manning of this city.

A letter from Manning to Farley accompanied the petition explaining in detail the change in the Jerseyville situation. A few years ago Jerseyville had eight rural routes. This number was gradually reduced until fifty per cent of the total had been abolished. Manning has also enlisted the attention of Congressman Scott W. Lucas from this district to the situation and Senator William Dellich has been informed also and his assistance requested in saving Route No. 4.

Jerseyville postoffice employees have been obliged to assume a June in January attitude since the attempt to drill into the post office vault of robbers was repulsed by the tear gas device system contained in the strong place. Windows have been elevated for several days and it has been necessary to keep electric fans running at times to clear the remaining tear gas from the place.

Aged Woman Hurt
Mrs. W. S. VanPelt, eighty-three year old resident of Jerseyville was taken to Barnes hospital in St. Louis Tuesday to receive treatment for a fracture of the right hip which she sustained in a fall Monday night.

Mrs. VanPelt has been residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Dunham in this city and fell at their home Monday night. She was accompanied to the hospital by her son-in-law, Leonard Glassbrenner.

Another aged resident, William H. Hunter, who has been a patient at St. Joseph's hospital in Alton, receiving treatment for a fractured hip, was brought to his home on East Pearl street Monday. His sister, Miss Ida Hunter is recuperating from an attack of pneumonia.

Old Age Assistance Office to Move to Remodeled Room

Desk Believed to Have Been Used When Court House Built Given Office

The Old Age Assistance offices, located in the west tower room on the first floor of the court house at present, will be moved next week to the second floor of the court house, where quarters will be established in a remodeled section of the former county court room. Fred E. Deatherage, superintendent of the Morgan county office said he had been informed by the county commissioners. Among the possessions which the commissioners have turned over to the Old Age Assistance office to be used as equipment, is a desk, which is believed to have been used first when the court house was built in 1868, and which was used for many years.

The north half of the old county court room, used recently as a grand jury room, has been partitioned off and repainted and decorated. There will be a large office for the superintendent, three smaller consultation rooms, and room for the secretary, along with a waiting room. The floor will be repainted.

Master-In-Chancery Henry J. English said Thursday that the desk which has been turned over to the Old Age Assistance office was in the court house as a circuit judge's bench when he first went to the court house. He said he believed that the desk had been used by Judge Cyrus Epler, but was removed from the circuit court room when the late Judge Owen P. Thompson took office.

Judge Thompson effected a number of changes in the circuit court room, among which was rebuilding the rostrum. At that time a new judge's stand was built along the east wall of the circuit court room. When Judge Walter Wright, incumbent, took office, the court room was changed by moving the judge's rostrum to the south wall of the building.

Several other changes are being contemplated in the court house offices. The commissioners are considering a suggestion that the Works Progress Administration be given the room to be vacated by the Old Age Assistance bureau, and that an additional office be set up in the basement of the building for the use of the administrator.

Grand jury sessions probably will be held in the circuit court jury

Donald Budge, Tennis Champ, Is Awarded Sullivan Memorial Trophy By A Landslide Margin

New York, Dec. 30.—(AP)—As a crowning touch to the honors he has collected this year, off as well as on the tennis courts, the prize Sullivan Memorial trophy was awarded today to John Donald Budge by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States.

The American Davis Cup hero and world No. 1 tennis player for 1937 won by a landslide margin in the final nationwide balloting, conducted by the A. A. U., to determine the amateur athlete contributing most during the year to the twin objectives of competitive achievement and all-around sportsmanship.

Budge is the first tennis player to win the Sullivan trophy, first awarded to Robert T. Jones, Jr., for his coiffing "grand slam" in 1930 and captured last year by Glenn Morris, Colorado's all-around athlete star and the Olympic decathlon champion.

Budge's total of 1308 points was the biggest credited to any trophy winner since Jones. It compared with 704 points for Don Lash, Indiana's famed holder of distance running records and titles.

Katherine Rawls, Florida's winner of six 1937 national swimming championships and the year's outstanding feminine performer in sports, finished third with 425 points.

The balance of the field of ten contenders for the amateur award, picked by the A. A. U. from an original list of 29, finished as follows in the final tabulation of points: Archie San Roman of Emporia, Kan., mile foot-racer, 293; Adolph Kiefer of Chicago, national backstroke swimming champion, 164; Ralph Planagan of Miami, Fla., national freestyle swimming champion, 161; William Sefton of the University of Southern California, co-holder of the world pole-vault record and national A. A. U. champion, 156; Stewart Leighart of New York, 10-goal ace of old Westbury polo team, national champion, 122; Angelo (Hank) Luisetti, Stanford University basketball star, 109; and Benjamin Johnson, Negro star of Columbia University's track team, 80.

The list was submitted to a national tribunal of 600 sports leaders, editors and officials.

Budge's citation emphasized not only his victories at home and abroad, but characterized his "general demeanor on and off the tennis courts x x x as a big factor in promoting international good will."

"His perseverance and courage," it was added, "were demonstrated in the inter-zine Davis Cup final at Wimbledon when, with the count at two sets all and Von Cramm (of Germany) leading in games by 4-1, Budge rallied to win the match and enable America to challenge England for the cup."

"Budge has upheld the amateur code in the face of flattering offers to turn professional."

Lash "Outstanding" Among All Athletes

Given Title as Big Ten's Man of the Season

Chicago, Dec. 30.—(AP)—The Big Ten's "outstanding athlete" title for 1937 belongs to Donald R. Lash, Indiana's smasher of distance running records—by as far as some of the bigger margins he established in cinderpath triumphs.

The light-footed Hoosier, who ran a world record 8:58 two miles at Boston last February, dominated Big Ten mile and two mile fields outdoors for three years, along with supplying a full share of thrills for Drake and Pennsylvania relay crowds, galloped off with the sixth annual Associated Press poll of coaches and sportswriters by a score of 67 points to 37 for a fellow Hoosier, Fullback Corby Davis, John (Jake) Townsend, an Indianapolis who operates for Michigan in basketball and track, was third with 19 points.

Lash was first choice of 17 of the 41 voters. Five picked him second and six made his third choice. Scoring was on the basis of three points for a first choice, two for a second, and one for third. Davis collected seven firsts, five seconds, and six thirds.

Cecil Isbell, Purdue's football star, and Louis Boudreau, Illinois' basketball and baseball star, shared fourth place at 16 points; Jewell Young, Purdue's holder of the Big Ten individual basketball scoring record, had 15 for sixth, and 13 points gave Jim McDonald, Ohio State gridiron and basketball ace, the next position.

Others receiving support included Harry Combes, Illinois.

LOCKS SELF IN CAR TO BEAT COP; LOSES

Chicago, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Policeman Robert Fall stepped up to an automobile in the Loop and tried to serve Robert Swikel, 26, the driver, with a traffic ticket for making a U-turn.

But Swikel said he didn't want the ticket, locked the doors of his car and sat tight.

"You're under arrest," shouted Policeman Fall.

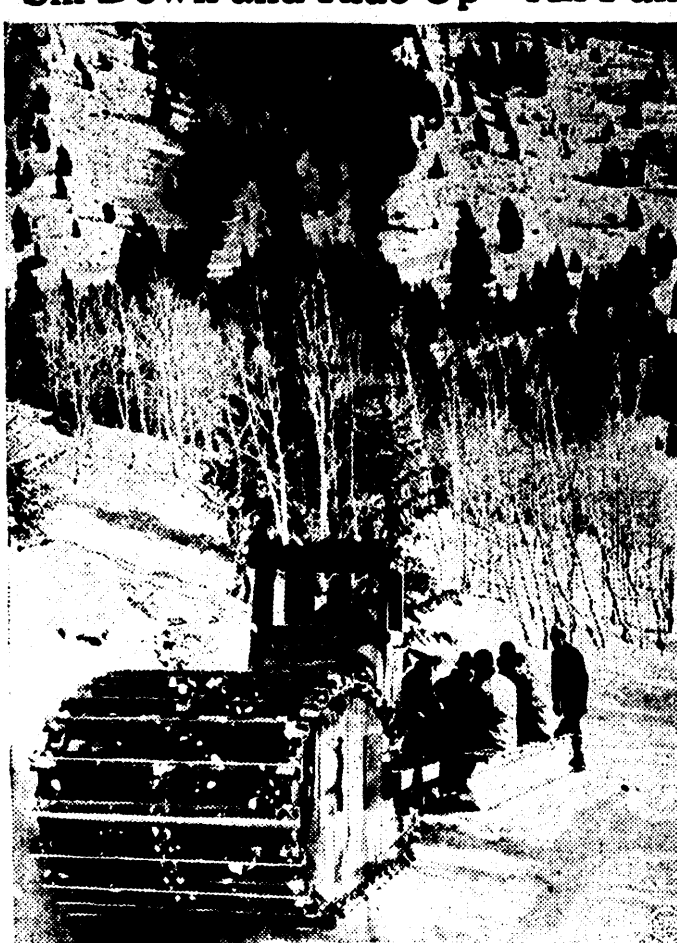

Swikel let down a window a teeny mite, and said: "No, I'm not."

The young driver was on his sit-down strike from 5:20 p.m. yesterday until 6:35 p.m.

Police had his car towed to the station, broke a window with a pistol butt and extricated Swikel, who immediately exclaimed: "And now I'm going to be late meeting my wife in the Loop."

This was correct. He was locked up on three charges—making a U-turn, resisting arrest, and disorderly conduct.

Milton High Defeats Nebo 25 To 16 To Win Tourney; Bluffs Takes Perry, 36-20

Scores Last Night.
Milton 25; Nebo 16 (championship).
Bluffs 36; Perry 20 (third place.)

Milton—Milton high's Mustangs successfully defended its own invitational tournament championship here Thursday night, defeating Nebo, runners up in all three years of the tournament, 25 to 16, when the Nebo team went stark cold in shooting, and the Mustangs themselves didn't fare as well as usual at the wickets.

The victory avenged the only defeat the Mustangs have suffered during the season, a 36 to 31 loss to Nebo on the Nebo court, and gave Milton its second championship in three years. The game was played before a packed house, more than 300 people taking their places in the gymnasium an hour and a half before the game.

Bluffs put on a scoring spree to defeat Perry, 36 to 20, shooting most of its hottest baskets to completely dominate the game. Bluffs ran off a 22 to 9 lead at the end of the first half, and was never seriously threatened, although Perry did stage a rally in the third quarter.

Championship Game Hard Fought
The championship game was the fastest of the tournament, players on both teams racing around the court in speedy efforts to get points. Milton had to stage a rally to widen the gap

Are Doing Better Thruout East; Beat N.Y. "U."

Chicago, Dec. 30.—(AP)—It appears as if Minnesota's Gophers will be tough to pry loose from their share of the Big Ten basketball championship.

The Gophers, who tied Illinois for the 1937 conference title, continued to dazzle New York fans last night by cutting down New York University's previously undefeated team, 36 to 31, before 18,000 in Madison Square Garden.

The Gophers failed to cause much excitement out this way in whipping South Dakota, Grinnell, Carleton, and Nebraska, but proved they have it again this year by mauling Long Island U., 56 to 41, Monday, and following with last night's triumph.

Purdue and Indiana boosted Big Ten basketball prestige at the other end of the continent by defeating two Los Angeles teams in a doubleheader.

Indiana won a nip-and-tuck affair with the University of Southern California, 42 to 39.

Purdue again turned on its amazing scoring power to defeat the University of California at Los Angeles, 63 to 39.

The victories gave the Indiana teams a grand slam on their Far West tour. The previous night Purdue defeated the Trojans, 49 to 43, and Indiana turned back U.C.L.A., 42 to 33.

Ohio State suffered its first defeat of the season, bowing at Columbus to California's touring five, 34 to 27.

There will be no action for Big Ten teams tonight, but Northwestern will entertain Notre Dame tomorrow night in their usually spectacular New Year's eve game, while Wisconsin tackles Missouri at Madison.

Routt, Roodhouse Will Meet Tonight Team Attends Clinic

Double Header to Begin at 7:15; Coach Plans to Use Same Line-up

Routt and Roodhouse high schools will close the year of 1937 with a double header basketball game tonight on the Our Saviour's parish school court, and will begin their New Year's eve entertainment at 7:15 p. m. The second tilt probably will start about 8:30 p. m.

Coach Wallace Baptist and his Routt crew took a work out Tuesday on the University of Illinois court, while attending the basketball clinic sponsored there. The coach and team also remained in Champaign to watch Notre Dame lose its first game in a year in an overtime session, to the University of Illinois.

The Routt coach came back singing praises for Johnny Moir, Notre Dame player, and Louis Boudreau, University of Illinois player, who can do almost anything with a basketball except make it talk.

Use Same Line-up.
Routt probably will use its usual line-up against the Roodhouse team, the coach said yesterday, with a few changes in positions. Pat McHatten and Henry will be forwards, Perry, center, and Bob Johnson and Ted Beerup guards. Henry and Johnson have reversed position, the coach explained, in order to provide more height in the scoring end of the court.

The games will be concluded in time for patrons to celebrate New Year's Eve, the coach assured.

Former "Wonder of Wall Street" Dead

End Comes in Prison After Four Years on Parole

Ossining, N. Y., Dec. 30.—(AP)—Harold Russell Ryder, "boy wonder" of Wall Street, is dead from a heart attack two weeks after he had been returned to Sing Sing prison. He was 41.

Four years of freedom on parole from a 1930 larceny sentence had ended December 13, when he entered the prison to serve from 12 to 17 years.

His death occurred yesterday in the Hilltop prison hospital to which he had climbed for a routine physical examination.

Medical Examiner Amos O. Squire today took Ryder's vital organs to Grasslands hospital for examination. Questioned as to this procedure after he already had signed the death certificate Dr. Squire said he wanted to make sure there were no contributory causes such as poison.

The former Wall Street runner who pyramided a shoe store to $15,000,000 pleaded guilty in 1930 to larceny of $95,452 which he had received to purchase stocks. He was sentenced to serve three to 10 years and was paroled after two years and three months.

Last October he was rearrested in a brokerage office and admitted violation of his parole. He pleaded guilty of defrauding 83 investors of $20,000 and was sentenced to serve from five to 10 years and in addition to complete his first term of 10 years.

UNUSUAL PUNISHMENT METED OUT TO NEGRO

Must Stand On One Foot, Daily, Hands In Air, Until Stopped

Madisonville Ky., Dec. 30.—(AP)—Courthouse visitors were puzzled today to find Charles Taylor, 16, negro, standing on one foot with both hands in the air.

The unusual punishment was meted out by County Judge Charles Barnett. The youth was charged with attempted burglary.

The judge told Taylor to assume the statue pose each day until further notice. He decides each day when the youth has had enough.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Andrew Harke live at 308 Oakland avenue in suburban Highland Park. When he tried to go to bed in a home at 308 Prairie avenue in nearby Highland, police were called and Harke went to jail instead.

In justice court Harke said it had been a large evening and 308 is 308 no matter which town it's in.

Justice of the Peace G. J. Shetzley said, however, that by that sort of reasoning Harke could appropriate readily that $15 is $15—the amount of his fine.

Crimsons Make It 2 Straight In As Many Nights; Fouls Are Numerous As Teams Go Fast

Jacksonville High's Crimsons, their holiday turkey thoroughly digested, were forced to hit a hot pace at Franklin last night to subdue the Flashes 31 to 25. With the reserves running over Franklin 40 to 13, Jacksonville pulled off two double victories in two nights, as they had things their own way at Mt. Sterling Wednesday.

Franklin put up a stiff resistance, and the result was a slap-bang contest with a total of 38 fouls called. Mitchell of Petersburg was referee.

Scoring was fairly well divided among the Jacksonville lineup, with Baptist and Smith leading the attack. Rawlings, Franklin center, was high point man of the fracas with 10 points.

SIXTY FAMILIES TERMED 'FOES' OF DEMOCRACY

of the capital funds of the United States (capital to which every American man and woman over four generations has contributed sweat and blood) will refuse to operate that economic system, will refuse to let that capital be employed—unless they are once more given full power to wreck American democracy in their own sweet way.

"Those who try to make it appear that President Roosevelt is fighting business use the word 'business' with a special meaning. When they speak of 'businessmen' they refer to a small group of big business monopolists. These are the people whose power President Roosevelt challenged during his first administration and whose power he is determined, on behalf of the whole American people, to master during his second administration. x x x

"Big business might wisely put its own house in order by correcting the high-handed practices, or by purging itself, of its fords, its Girdlers and its Rands before it presumes to tell the people what they should or should not do about troubles caused by labor laws.

"The problems of private enterprise in a democracy today can not be settled by the scheming of lawyers overtrading their deals for the sake of immediate fees, nor by drives through certain kept newspapers and kept commentators and every other method of noise-making to blame on this or that law the results of a fundamental unwillingness of certain outmoded leaders of private enterprise to play the democratic game."

CAST OF CHARACTERS
LINDA BENTON—Merrill, daughter of a famous singer.
Merrill, singing "Merrill."
MIRANDA TRENTE—Merrill's mother's grandmother; a "strong woman."

Yesterday, leaving Miranda Trente for the closest city, Linda meets friendly little Tony Abruzzi, and is attracted when he asks her to sing for him at his club.

CHAPTER XIII
"SING?" faltered Linda. "Here?"

"Just some little Christmas songs—to make my evening perfect." In his earnestness the little man looked as if he were about to burst into tears. "The more singing the better. There will be a boys' choir to help with the choruses. You can even practice with them a little. . . . If you will do this for me, I will gladly pay you ten times the amount of your check."

It was preposterous. It was unthinkable. Yet Linda did think about it. After all, she did need money desperately.

"You mean—now?" she asked, glancing down at her rumpled dress, with its childish collar and deep, fanning cuffs of white organdy. "The way I am?"

"Just like that," Tony was no longer funny. He was appraising her with the shrewd eyes of an impresario. "Like that is perfect. I could not have planned it better, myself. . . . Anyhow, you didn't buy that simplicity at any department store?"

It was true. She had bought it in Paris the last time she had been there with her aunt.

When, an hour later, the lights were suddenly darkened, people sat back expectantly. Tony had some surprise up his sleeve.

UNSEEN, the stage revolved, carrying with it the last act—a team of trick banjo players. Into the silence that fell an organ pealed. Lights twinkled in what seemed to be the vast dome of heaven—and outshining them all, one bright, clear star. And there under the star, as if transfixed in space, was Linda in her simple frock, with her hair frosted by the soft overhead lighting, her pale young face, and that look in her eyes of a thoughtful child.

Barely visible in the shadows about her feet, like a group of disembodied cherubs, clustered the bright faces of the choir boys. So Linda sang, very softly and tenderly—"God Rest Ye, Merry Gentlemen"—"The Little Lord Jesus"—"The Virgin's Lullaby"—and "O Holy Night!"—accompanied sometimes by the shrill, . . .

When Linda wanted to get up, she said firmly, "It is worth my life to let you up till the doctor comes again. If he says, 'All right,' then you get up—not before."

When the doctor did come, he said, after a brief examination, "Nothing the matter with you that I can see except that you were completely worn out. Been losing sleep over something, haven't you?"

"Oh, well," he finished with a short laugh when Linda murmured something evasive, "of course you won't tell me."

Tony, who had come in with the doctor, burst out, "Then it's all right she sings again tonight, doctor? It won't hurt her?"

"I should say," replied the doctor, whose eyes had been studying Linda's face, "that singing—or doing anything that will keep her mind occupied—is the best thing for her."

"But," said Linda, "you can't want me to sing again. I don't think they liked me very well. They—they were so quiet."

"She thinks they did not like her!" Tony crinkled his eyes at his sister. "And them out there bawling like babies. . . . Wait, Miss Benton—listen to this!"

clear boy voices. Something achingly sweet in her fresh young voice brought to that jaded night-club crowd Christmas memories—as shrewd little Tony had known it would. And as Linda sang, the icy sheath that had numbed her for days fell away in the joy of that imperishable music. . . . There was no applause.

Linda did not know that Tony's programs were always broadcast, nor that when she had finished, people all over the land as well as in that crowded room, wiped their eyes and smiled waveringly at each other.

She only knew that when it was over, she began to tremble, and that someone steadied her and led her to a chair. She remembered people standing over her as she lay back, suddenly limp and unbelievably tired. Then she was in a car, going somewhere. And so ended the strangest, wildest, most incredible Christmas of Linda Benton's life.

LINDA opened her eyes the next afternoon in a strange room, with a strange woman sitting by her bed. The woman introduced herself with bursting pride as the sister of Tony Abruzzi. Mrs. Campagno was fully as round, almost as funny, and quite as kind as her brother.

When Linda wanted to get up, she said firmly, "It is worth my life to let you up till the doctor comes again. If he says, 'All right,' then you get up—not before."

When the doctor did come, he said, after a brief examination, "Nothing the matter with you that I can see except that you were completely worn out. Been losing sleep over something, haven't you?"

"Oh, well," he finished with a short laugh when Linda murmured something evasive, "of course you won't tell me."

Tony, who had come in with the doctor, burst out, "Then it's all right she sings again tonight, doctor? It won't hurt her?"

"I should say," replied the doctor, whose eyes had been studying Linda's face, "that singing—or doing anything that will keep her mind occupied—is the best thing for her."

"But," said Linda, "you can't want me to sing again. I don't think they liked me very well. They—they were so quiet."

"She thinks they did not like her!" Tony crinkled his eyes at his sister. "And them out there bawling like babies. . . . Wait, Miss Benton—listen to this!"

Carrollton to Ask Federal Grant for Water Pipe System

City Officials Act to Recondition Lines; Need About $6,000

Carrollton, Dec. 30.—Mayor N. D. Vedder and members of the Carrollton City Council held a special open meeting Wednesday evening. The purpose of the meeting was to consult with engineers and to take action on a motion to ask the Federal Government for a W.P.A. grant, to be used in the reconstruction of the piping system of the Carrollton water department.

Engineers estimated that a federal W.P.A. grant of from $55,000.00 to $60,000.00 is needed; with the city to issue a bond in proportion to cover its share. The bonds are to be retired out of the income of the water department, and neither the federal grant nor the bond would burden the taxpayers of Carrollton one cent, and fire-fighting system which would equal any in the state. Resolutions were made, seconded and passed as follows: Resolution authorizing Mayor N. D. Vedder and City Treasurer L. Pranger to sign and file a request for a federal allocation. Resolution appointing Mayor Vedder as representative of Carrollton City in all federal dealing in the above plans.

REPORT OPPORTUNITY FOR USED CAR BUYER GREATEST IN YEARS

The used car buyer is the favored child of the automobile business today and is enjoying one of his greatest opportunities in years to purchase good motor cars at very low prices, according to Russell J. Ashe, local Nash dealer.

The industry had a very good year in 1937, Mr. Ashe explained, and during the twelve-month period a large number of good used cars—many only one or two years old, and in excellent condition—were traded in.

"A good number of these cars are still on the market," pointed out Mr. Ashe. "While prices of practically everything else in the country increased during the year, prices of used cars held at their old levels. Today, with dealers anxious to clear used car stocks in preparation for the new business year, prices have gone down to new bargain levels."

"The used car public is becoming aware that this situation exists, for dealers are selling nearly twice as many used automobiles as they were at this time last year."

"At present, many comparatively new automobiles are being traded in on the new Nash cars with conditioned air systems for winter driving, sales of which have increased since winter weather set in."
